Hankow, Oct. 12.—The revolutionary movement is gaining momentum every hour. The killed aggregate several hundred, mostly Manchurians. The revolutionists captured Hanyang and took possession of the arsenal. The missionaries at Wu Chang are safe.

Troops Mutiny.
Peking, Oct. 12.—Five thousand Chinese troops in the Hankow native city are reported to have mutinied this morning and killed two to three hundred Manchurians.

Control Province.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Hankow, Oct. 12.—Almost the entire province of Hu Pei is in the hands of the rebels who have issued a proclamation of their intention to overthrow the Manchu dynasty.

At Han Yang.
Following in the capture of the capital, Wu Chang, yesterday, the rebel forces marched on the important city of Han Yang, which was captured, as well as several towns of less importance. An attack on Hankow is believed imminent. The provincial army, almost to a man, is said to have joined the rebels.

All Are Safe.
The rebel leaders refused to allow foreign missionaries to leave Wu Chang, but have given assurance that their lives and property will be respected.

Gun boats are being rushed there by England, Germany and Japan.

LUMBER INTERESTS EFFECT A COMBINE

Lumber Association Including Big Mills in Canada and Western United States, Eliminates Competition.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Calgary, Alberta, Canada, Oct. 12.—As a result of a meeting here the great lumber association, comprising all the big mills in Western United States and Canada has absolutely eliminated competition. Scores of mills have been closed and one selling agency has been arranged to handle the output of all the mills on each side of the line. It was agreed to ask the Canadian government to put a duty on rough lumber from the United States, so that the two countries could not compete. All the Pacific coast mills were represented at the meeting.

LOSERS MUST PAY A SUPPER TO WINNERS

Y. P. S. C. E. of the Congregational Church Have Most Enjoyable Program for This Evening.

At six-thirty this evening the members of the losing side in the Y. P. S. C. E. contest in the Congregational church will be the guests of their opponents, and the supervisors of the Junior C. E.

This contest among the C. E. members was won by the "Reds" from the "Blues" by securing the most new members, by taking part in the most meetings and by attendance at the other meeting of the church.
During the banquet short talks will be given by Mr. Buell, Mr. Redder and Mr. Murray on C. E. work. The musical numbers will consist of a solo by Mr. Will Miller, a duet by Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Parks, and a quartet composed of the Misses Buckmaster and Town and Messrs. Miller and Gifford.
Among other things plans for next year will be discussed and business of importance to the societies will be talked over.
There are about fifty members of the Y. P. S. C. E. at present and twenty-four of the Junior society, who will be invited to the banquet.

Next Meeting of the State Teachers' Association in Milwaukee Will Be Well Attended.

Janesville schools will be well represented at the Wisconsin Teachers' Association which meets at Milwaukee November 9, 10 and 11. This will be the fifty-fifth annual meeting in this state and an excellent program is planned.

Among the speakers from Janesville will be Miss Grace Edwards who will give one or two papers before the English Conference, on the adoption and nature of a course of argumentation in the fourth year of high school. Miss Mary E. Buckmaster will give a paper on the relation of the kindergarten and the primary in the kindergarten conference.

In the Agricultural Section A. B. West is secretary and W. J. Hamilton, league is a graduate of the Janesville high school and who is now situated at Two Rivers, Wis. Mrs. Georgia C. Hyde is the secretary of the Music Section.
It is not known how many Janesville teachers will attend the Convention, but it is expected that a fair sized aggregation will be present to represent this city.

GOVERNMENT WINS ITS CASE AGAINST ELECTRIC COMPANY

Federal Judge at Cleveland Orders Dissolution of One Company With Its Subsidiaries.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Toledo, Ohio, Oct. 12.—Federal Judge Killits today rendered a decree in favor of the government in the case of the United States against the General Electric company and its forty subsidiary companies. The decree orders the General Electric company to conduct business under its own name and the dissolution of the National Electric Lamp company and thirty-five subsidiary corporations.

PLACE CORNERSTONE OF GIBBONS HALL

Impressive Ceremonies And Procession of Clergy Mark Addition of New Building to Catholic University.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—A procession of archbishops, bishops, monsignors and priests of the Roman Catholic Church, clad in their various colored vestments, formed an impressive parade to the ceremonies this afternoon at the laying of the cornerstone for the Gibbons Memorial Hall at the Catholic University. The procession across the campus and through the buildings of the university was led by Cardinal Gibbons, who was attended by a large delegation of priests from the Baltimore diocese. Upon the arrival at the memorial hall, one wing of which is already completed, the cornerstone was laid in the lower section, or central portion of the building. Exercises of a simple but impressive nature attended the laying of the cornerstone. In addition to Cardinal Gibbons the speakers included the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Thos. J. Shahan, rector of the university; the Rev. Dr. Charles F. Alkon, dean of the theological department, and the Rev. Dr. D. W. Shaw, dean of the school of science of the university.

The Gibbons Memorial Hall is to be added to the already imposing group of buildings belonging to the Catholic University as a permanent and enduring memorial to the famous Baltimore prelate who has always manifested the keenest interest in the educational work of the church. The present year, marking as it does the fiftieth anniversary of the priesthood and the twenty-fifth anniversary of his elevation to the cardinalate, was selected as the most appropriate time for the construction of the memorial.
The memorial hall, massively constructed of stone, is designed for use as a hall of residence for students of the university. The structure will occupy a commanding site directly across the campus from the administration building of the university. In the rear of the new building is Michigan avenue, the principal artery of communication with the national capital. The building will consist of a central or main portion with a large wing at each end. It will have a total length of 265 feet, and will afford accommodations for about 150 students. In a niche over the main entrance will be placed a large statue of Cardinal Gibbons. The total cost of the building will be about a quarter of a million dollars.

FARMERS' NATIONAL CONGRESS IN SESSION

Thousands Present at Opening of Thirty-first Annual Convention in Columbus, Ohio.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Columbus, O., Oct. 12.—One thousand and progressive farmers representing numerous states rounded up in the Ohio capital today for the thirty-first annual convention of the Farmers' National Congress. Joseph Strango, of Marion, Ind., is presiding over the sessions which are being held at the statehouse and will last several days. In addition to discussing various problems of practical and scientific agriculture the congress will listen to eminent speakers who will be heard on the subjects of good roads, the conservation of natural resources, the parcels post, the regulation of railroad rates and other matters of general interest and importance.

LOCAL MUSICIANS AT ENJOYABLE SMOKER

Members of the Bower City Band Held Smoker and Banquet Last Evening.

About thirty members of the local Federation of Musicians No. 328 enjoyed a smoker in their rooms last evening. Shortly after the company had come together supper was served by the cooks of the band which was a work of art and one of the long remembered by the Janesville musicians. A number of impromptu after dinner speeches were then called for, many of which created a great deal of amusement for the diners.
Progressive club was next on the program, E. H. Walker winning first prize and E. H. Peterson being granted the "Booby Prize" as the result of his efforts.
Throughout the evening jokes and stories were told and a general good time kept the company in excellent spirits until the midnight hour. This was one of the semi-annual affairs of this kind and the next one is being planned for some time after the first of the year.

STORM STILL RAGES IN MONTANA TODAY

Snow Has Fallen to Depth of Two and One-half Feet and All Communication Is Cut Off.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Salt Lake City, Utah, Oct. 12.—A terrific blizzard is raging in Montana, demoralizing wire communication and railroad traffic, according to a dispatch received today by the railroad and telegraph companies. For nearly twenty-six hours Butte's wire connection has been cut off and the last reports are that the city was struggling with one of the worst storms in its history. Snow has fallen to a depth of two and one-half feet and blown by hard winds into drifts.

CASE OF STATE VS. THOMPSON TAKEN UP

Man Charged With Cruelty to Children Arraigned in Municipal Court This Afternoon.

The case of the state versus George Thompson of Johnston, charged with cruel and inhuman treatment of his children, was taken up in the municipal court this afternoon. The wife and four children have been subpoenaed as witnesses and also some of the neighbors. Interesting developments are expected and it is probable that the taking of testimony will take some time. A number of spectators were present at the hearing this afternoon, a number of them neighbors and acquaintances of Thompson and his family.

M'NAMARA TRIAL IS ADJOURNED ONE DAY

COLUMBUS DAY IS LEGAL HOLIDAY IN STATE OF CALIFORNIA, HENCE DELAY.

DEFENSE SCORED POINT

All is Ready for the Case Which Will Determine the Fate of the "Capital Laborer."
Los Angeles, Oct. 12.—"Capital versus Labor." This issue was fairly determined today in the trial of James B. McNamara. The ruling of Judge Walter Boardman that both sides are within their legal rights in determining the attitude of the nonfrontrunners toward the labor movement is capable of only one interpretation—that the widest latitude shall follow the examination of the prospective jurors. As a result of this, it is probable that a jury will not be sworn for three months.
Court Adjourned.
Today, Columbus Day, is a legal holiday in California and there was no session of the court. Council for both sides spent the day in an attempt to develop affidavits of the nonfrontrunners. All nonfrontrunners were locked up today. A careful canvass by both sides developed that all of them are dispositive to one side or the other.
New Venice.
It is certain that not a man now doubted pending final decision will remain after right of peremptory challenge has been exercised. Feeling is growing more intense here and there is strong fear that it will affect all incoming venues.

FRANCE IS BLAMED FOR THE STRUGGLE ON AFRICAN COAST

High Official in German Foreign Office States Reason for Placing Responsibility With France.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Berlin, Oct. 12.—Full responsibility for the Turkish-German war is placed by a high official of the German foreign office at France's door. Announced at the apparent impression in the United States that the "Fatherland" was behind Italy's declaration of war, this functionary, whose position is so important as to give his utterances practical significance, gave the United Press the following interview as a means of setting his country right with the American public.
"The government is astonished to learn of the conclusions and impressions of a part of the American press that Germany is held responsible for Italy's war policy. Not Agadir but the breaking of the Algerian act by France in sending an expedition to Foz is responsible for the present aggression and expansion of France in North Africa and determined to secure for herself the only remaining piece of north African coast, Tripoli.
The situation in Europe became somewhat doubtful and critical when France virtually purchased Morocco from England and Italy by giving up all claims to the two remaining provinces, Egypt and Tripoli. Agadir, therefore that England and France would place no obstacle in the way of acquiring Tripoli, Italy determined upon the action she has taken.
Germany did not initiate it, and no part in it was not informed until too late and therefore strongly declines to accept responsibility for the present war and the possible consequences that it may entail to the peace of Europe.
Germany is energetically working for the quick restoration of peace."

FOND DU LAC VISIT PROMISED BY TAFT

City Which Withdrew Invitation to President Onks, Will be on His Wisconsin Itinerary.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Salmon, Ore., Oct. 12.—The Fond du Lac, Wis., incident was officially closed on board the Taft special here today and Fond du Lac will entertain the president one and one-half hours on the afternoon of October 16.
Several days ago Mayor Wolf sent a telegram to Secretary Lillie announcing the city had withdrawn their invitation to the president and would refuse to entertain him because President Taft had decided to allot one and one-half hours to Fond du Lac instead of two and one-half hours as per the original program.
The change was made in order to give a more liberal division of time to Appleton. Yesterday, President Taft was notified by Mayor Wolf that Fond du Lac was ready to carry out the program in accordance with the time at its disposal.

CHICAGO HAS DEER EXHIBIT.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Ill., Oct. 12.—Door making in all its phases from the raw grain and hops to the finished product is to be seen at the mammoth exhibition which opened in the Cullerum today as a feature of the second International Brewers' Congress. Miniature reproductions of the old William Penn brewery in Pennsylvania and the brewery of Samuel Adams in Massachusetts also are shown.
The brewers' congress, of which Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson is the honorary president, will continue its sessions for ten days. Among those in attendance are leading brewers, brewmasters and chemists from England, Prussia, France, Bavaria, Bohemia, South Africa and other of the principal beer-making countries of the world.

FEAR RESULTS OF A ARMISTICE AT PRESENT

ITALY IN TRIPOLI HAS ITS HANDS FULL WITH ARABS AND TURKS.

FIGHTING IS RESUMED

Outcome of Endeavor to End Warfare Is Still a Problem for Diplomats.

Rome, Italy, Oct. 12.—The government has refused to either deny or affirm the report from Berlin that an armistice will shortly be declared with Turkey, but the statement is generally accepted by the people who are jubilant over the prospect of a successful termination of the war.

Fresh Outbursts.
Constantinople, Oct. 12.—The report that peace was about to be proclaimed between Italy and Turkey has brought fresh outbursts against the government from the leaders of the warlike young Turks. The army corps at Salonika is threatening to march on Constantinople if peace negotiations begin.

Similar Outbursts.
It is feared that the declaration of an armistice may be the signal for popular outbreaks against Italian residents in Turkey, in which other Europeans may be involved.

Troops Landed.
Tripoli, Oct. 12.—The landing of Italian troops is proceeding here rapidly and by night it is believed that the major portion of the expedition will have embarked. Stragglers from the Turkish camp report terrible suffering there.

Food Short.
The food supply is almost exhausted and there is scarcely any water.

Second Division Arrives.
The nineteen transports arrived today with the second division of the Italian army.

The heavy auto races were declared off, but the lighter cars may start later.

LOST CHILD ON WAY TO ORPHANS' HOME

Little Chap Found at St. Paul Passenger Depot Now on His Way to Catholic Orphanage in La Crosse.

The mystery which surrounded the apparent desertion of a three and a half year old little boy found at the St. Paul passenger depot yesterday morning, was cleared last evening when Miss Lilla Lillis, principal of the Jackson school, appeared at the police station in response to a message from the Chief of Police, and took the little chap with her to her home for the night, leaving this morning for La Crosse with him where he will be placed in the Catholic orphanage. It appears that the little fellow is the son of a Bohemian woman whose husband recently deserted her and who was to have been taken to La Crosse by Father Lillis, a brother of the Janesville principal, in the La Crosse orphanage Thursday. The little fellow cried so hard that it was decided to wait until later but the mother misinterpreted directions, put him on the train which arrived here yesterday without waiting for instructions. Before Miss Lillis was found many interested persons who read of the child's plight in last evening's Gazette, telephoned the police station and offered to care for him until his friends could be found. Father Lillis is in La Crosse where he will meet the little fellow this afternoon on his arrival.

NEW TICKETS ON THE NORTHWESTERN ROAD

Means More Work For Conductors But Assures Accuracy in Determining Returns.

New tickets have made their appearance along the Chicago and North Western system. They are much larger than the old tickets and are an improvement in the business methods of the company. The tickets are so made that each conductor may detach a piece in order that he may have something to show for each passenger and in order that the company may determine the earnings of any train.

Under the old system when a passenger purchased a ticket from Milwaukee to Janesville the conductor from Milwaukee to Janesville would punch the ticket but had nothing to show at the end of his run that he had such a passenger and the company had nothing to show what the train from Milwaukee to Janesville earned.

With the new ticket the conductor out of Milwaukee and out of Madison will tear off a portion of the ticket bearing its number and will include this in his daily report to the company. The company can then tell what any train is earning.

For some time the company kept a hand of auditors on the trains to check on the business. They wore natty suits and kept not the auditors. They travel by night and by day.

An auditor in civilian garb may stop at North Freedom and take the next train for Janesville.

After the conductor goes through the train the auditor walks who also with a little counter in his hand and makes a little check for every passenger. When the conductor is reached he calls for his tickets and unless the conductor can account for each passenger there is liable to be trouble ahead.

If he has failed to take up enough tickets or there are special favorites with him, the reason why must come out. The company officials no longer keep conductors who are not able to pick up all the tickets or who are inclined to haul passengers a long distance for a small fare.

The new system adopted by the Chicago & Northwestern has been in vogue on some of the eastern roads for some time. An official of the system of collecting fares down to the proper basis. While it is rare to find a conductor who is at all inclined to take chances, yet there is an occasional one who may not be honest or who is careless and these the company hopes to soon locate by the new methods.

The new tickets add to the work of the conductors, but the most of them are glad to do that in order to have everything straight. The new tickets will not be on sale until the old supply is exhausted.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.

DELAY IN TRAFFIC CAUSED BY FLOODS

Service on the Portage Division is Suspended, Owing to Condition of the Wisconsin River.

Ticket Agent Floyd Davis of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul here was notified this morning that he was not to sell any tickets for stations between Madison and Portage or to any station beyond Portage as the rising of the Wisconsin river had paralyzed all freight and passenger traffic at those points. The tracks are entirely under water at Portage and in some places completely washed out. Therefore, for the protection of passengers going to the above named points, no tickets were sold out of Janesville for places on that division as connections at Madison would be impossible and there are no trains running to Portage. Several people from Janesville and vicinity were intending to go this morning but were held here until the lines are again opened, which, from all appearances and present reports, will be a considerable length of time.

August Abendroth, foreman of the car shops, was called to Darlington and Mineral Point today on company business.

Agents along this line report many tickets sold for Chicago, purchased by people intending to see the Cubs and Sox engagements.

ACTION IS BROUGHT AGAINST RAILROAD

Racing Contractor Brings Suit Against Chicago & Northwestern Railway.

Superintendent E. F. Nelson of a large contracting firm located in the city of Racine was refused transportation on Train No. 503 last Sunday evening at 11:05 by the conductor.

Mr. Nelson was on his way to Evansville with a party of about twenty-five men where they have a sewerage contract, and as the men were apparently all well under the influence of liquor the conductor refused to let them on the train, taking for his statement the recent law passed regarding the prohibition of intoxicants riding on railway trains. The contractor had a lengthy argument with the conductor but he refused to hear any excuses and refused to let the parties on, which, if the men were in an intoxicated condition, was quite right.

Having been held back on this account, Nelson states that he was hindered from his work in Evansville as he had to keep all the men here in Janesville until the next day. He also stated that he was not in an intoxicated condition and that all his men with him had only been drinking to a very moderate extent. He has brought action against the company for the sum of $5,000.

His trial was set for two o'clock tomorrow afternoon and Walter Cullen and George Maltress furnished $200 bail for his appearance in court at that time.

Wild West Stunts in France.

A French artillery officer, Lieutenant Anstou, at a fete organized by a regiment in camp at Sissonne successfully undertook a feat that puts him in the advanced wild west class. He took 40 horses from his battery, arranged them in a column of fours, and drove them while standing on the backs of the last four. The rolls required measured over 1,000 feet and he was obliged to wrap his arms in cloth to prevent their bruising the flesh. This equipped, he guided his team through several evolutions, ending in a charge at the dead run, and bringing his team of 40 to a halt without disorder. The horses had no special training.

The Artificial Cat.

An ingenious inventor has made an artificial cat. The body is composed of plaster of paris or terra cotta, over which is spread the skin of one that has left the society of cats at some recent time. The eyes are made of glass and covered with real hair of cat, which gives to the artificial cat a more terrible appearance than the cat of real life. Rate and miles behold it with horror, and in a day or two forsake the room in which their natural enemy is placed. The advantages claimed for the artificial cat are, it steals nothing, eats nothing, kills no birds and utters no unearthly cries at night.

POOR WAY TO SAVE MONEY.

"Oh! me a five-cent piece of tobacco," said a man who entered a Manchester (N. H.) tobacco store the other day, throwing a nickel on the counter. The proprietor cut the tobacco and handed it to the customer. The latter looked at it critically for a moment. "Hain't it a little small?" asked the purchaser. "None," replied the storekeeper; "regular nickel size." "I know a place down in Boston," remarked the customer, "where you kin get a piece for five cents twice as big as that." "Well," observed the storekeeper, defiantly, "the round trip is only $2.50. Why don't you go down to Boston and get your money's worth?"

Evidently He Was Jealous. A strange plea for divorce was unsuccessfully put forward in the French courts recently by a man who complained that his wife had allowed her photographs to be used on picture postcards against his will.

Fashion Note. Ladies who are interested in the subject may take a trip to Washington and examine in the Bureau of Manufactures samples of the wood which the African Angoche bellos use for a face stain and paste, which have been sent over here by our vice-consul at Lourenco Marques in the interest of American beauty.

How Centipeds Walk. A eminent authority has investigated the peculiar wavy motion of centipeds and millepedes, to determine the manner in which these animals manage to use their superabundant pedal extremities so gracefully and harmoniously. It has been found that the legs move in groups, or waves, each wave including a definite number of legs. The number of waves included in the length of the body is constant for each species. In millepedes the waves of each side are synchronous; in centipeds they are symmetrically alternate, giving rise to beautifully accordant movements. The difference may be explained by suggesting that the millepede moves like a pacing horse, the centipede like a trotter.—Sunday Magazine.

Keep Plants Free From Dust. Dust is an enemy to plant life. Plants breathe through their leaves; therefore it is necessary to keep them free from dust. At least once a week, and oftener if the room is very warm or dusty, the plants should be put in the bathtub on their sides and gently sprinkled with a bath spray.

WORLD'S SERIES IS ANXIOUSLY AWAITED BY BASEBALL FANS

With Giants and Mackmen Both Confident, Excitement Is at Fever Heat in the East.
(BY UNITED PRESS.)

New York. We are ready for the Giants.
The spectre of 1905 looms up before us and we are out for revenge. —Connie Mack.
We overcame all obstacles in our fight for the pennant and my men are confident of defeating the Athletics. —John J. McGraw.

New York, Oct. 12.—After today's battle between the Giants and Brooklyn and the set-to between the All Stars and Athletics, warriors from the tribes of McGraw and Mack will patiently await the coming of Saturday afternoon for the initial crash of the series which will decide who shall have the honor of flying the world's championship emblem. Each camp is confident. With the exception of McGraw and Doyle, each team is ready. There is still doubt whether these two stars, recently slightly hurt, will be able to play. That the attendance at the games will break all former records, was manifest today when the public sale of tickets for the opening game began at the Grand headquarters. All night long hundreds of newspapermen stood in line waiting for the coveted passboards. It is expected by nightfall every available seat will have been disposed of.

MADISON FRESHMEN MAKE GOOD SHOWING

University Football Team Have Hard Time Defeating Freshmen in Practice Game.
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., Oct. 12.—The varsity found the freshmen a hard nut to crack in their weekly scrimmage yesterday afternoon, emerging with a 13 to 6 victory. In view of the prevailing circumstances, however, the showing was not so bad, for there was hardly a semblance of the first team that went up against Lawrence, Saturday. Richards sent in sub after sub, each for a vigorous workout.

Roberts sustained a severe injury. Two ribs, broken in his high school days, gave him trouble and he left the game. It is doubtful if he appears in the Saturday line-up against Ripon.

Formey played a brilliant game at half and made one of the varsity's touchdowns. Towards the close of the match three points were gained by a neat kick over the bar. The freshmen gained their touchdown by a free gateway and a run of 35 yards.

Some of the bright, patrician stars of the varsity were in the game. Moll, Gillette, Stamp, Pollock and others gave way to future hopefuls.

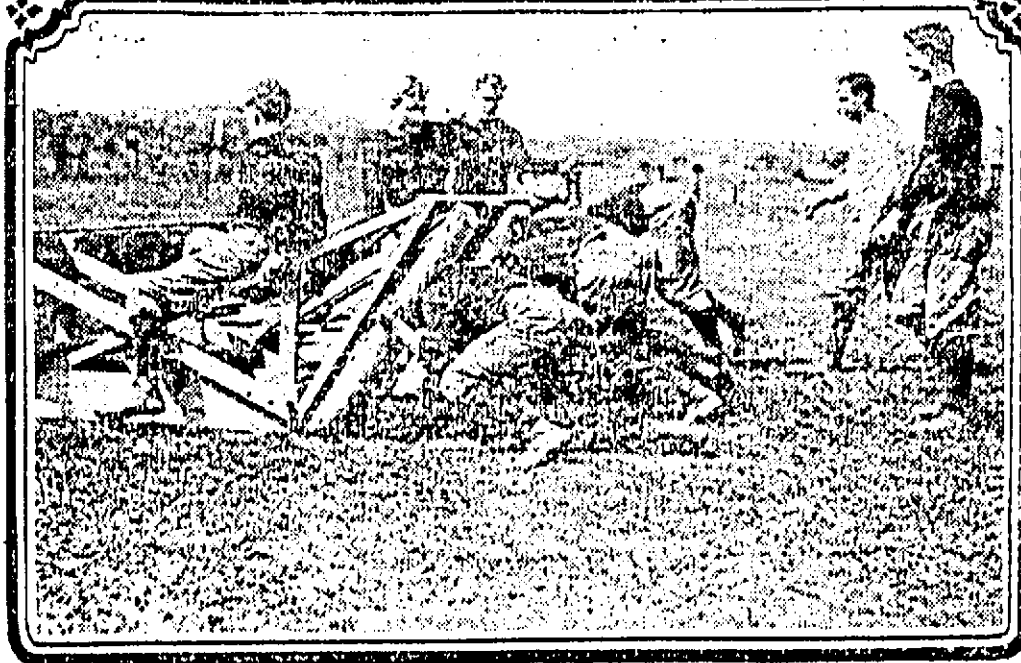

The student conference, which passes upon the right and wrong of undergraduate conduct at the University of Wisconsin, will sit in judgment on some twenty-five freshmen tonight. These offenders are charged with violating a stern varsity "tradition" in failing to wear the prescribed green cap. There is some speculation on the nature of the punishment to be meted in case the defendants refuse to abide by the rule. Expulsion is impossible, the water cure is tabooed by the conference's own law, fines are not allowed, and hazing is under the official ban. A vote of censure may be the only recourse. This will be welcomed by many freshmen who seek fame through newspaper mention.

President Van Hise is said to be much disappointed over the recurrence of hazing. Tuesday, although the forbidden sport took only a mild form, for the most part it consisted of efforts by fraternity sophomores to keep their freshmen brothers from attending the class rush.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM LOST TO CRESCENTS

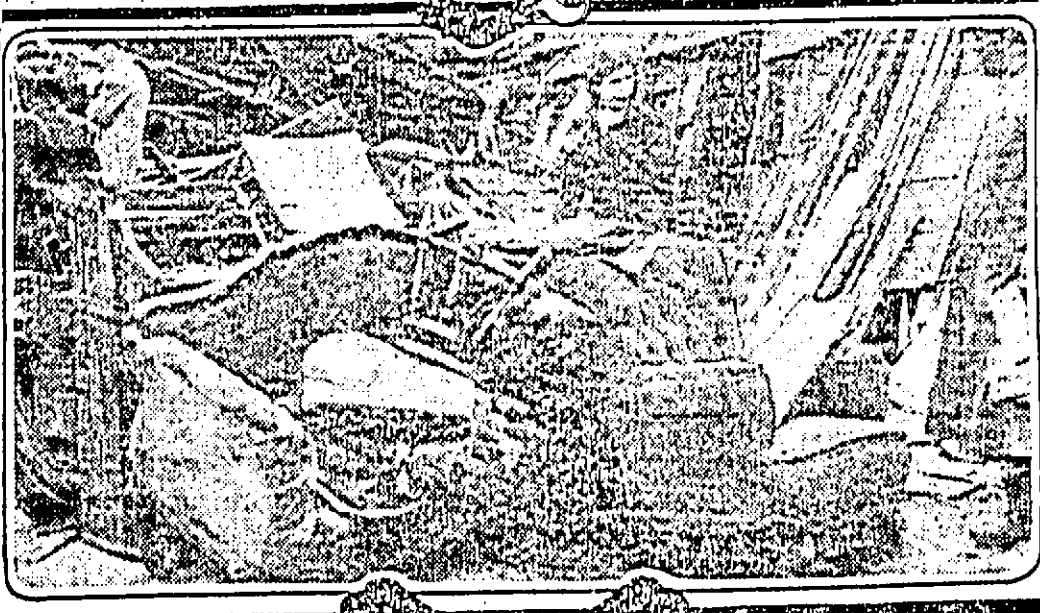

Milton Teams Clashed in One of Last Baseball Contests of Season Yesterday.
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Milton, Oct. 11.—The Crescent Athletics took an easy game from the local high school here today by a score of 8 to 1. The highs had won a game, 3 to 6, and the Crescents one, 5 to 4, so that this game would decide the series. The Crescents strengthened their team by the addition of three outsiders and won handily. The high school had scored first and held the lead for four innings. In the fifth, Randolph weakened, allowing five runs to score. Lamphere, a young southpaw, went in

NEW DEVICE TO DEVELOP HARVARD LINE.

Boston, Mass.—The charging machine as it has been termed is a mechanical device by means of which men are taught the rudiments of line bucking. With this device it is also possible to accurately measure the bucking power of each individual candidate for the team. The machine also develops the shoulders. The prospective 1911 line men are here shown under the direction of the head coach practicing on a charging machine. It is a Harvard invention and great possibilities are predicted for the device as a developer of strong teams.

Swatting the Flies.

The "swat the fly" crusade has many sides. In a New Jersey village where large families are fashionable it is one means of amusing the children. The mother of six made an offer of five cents for every twenty flies demolished and presented in a basket as a voucher. The six or such of them as have reached an age to make them the equal of a fly in a contest of strength, set to work and found that it did not take long to bag twenty. Frequent visits to the local toy shops on the part of this opulent family caused inquiry from their less prosperous playmates. When the secret of getting rich quick was told the other children went to their mothers and held them up with a similar proposition, which in every case met with acceptance. Prices have been regulated by a trust of mothers so that the children are all paid alike. They get a premium of an extra five cents when they have killed 100 flies.

Women Going Hatless.

New York women are gradually dispensing with hats in the summer time. The foreign element on the East side, of course, has accustomed that section to the spectacle of hatless women on all occasions, but the habit is spreading. On pleasant summer evenings half a dozen bareheaded women may be seen in almost any open car. They are riding just to keep cool, and they know how to do it. In the shopping district on warm days quite a few stylishly dressed women may be observed in the big shops with nothing on their elaborately arranged tresses. A parasol protects them when out of doors, but the hat is entirely dispensed with.

Youth Had Much to Learn.

An English gentleman once fell from his horse and injured his thumb. The pain increasing, he was obliged to send for a surgeon. One day the doctor was unable to visit the patient, and therefore sent his son instead. "Have you visited the Englishman?" said his father, in the evening. "Yes," replied the young man, "and I have drawn out a thorn which I ascertained to be the chief cause of his agony." "Fool!" exclaimed the father. "I trusted you had more sense; now there is an end to the job."

The Italian Treatment.

The Italians resort to a very simple method when they wish to obliterate the injurious effects of salt air and sunshine after a visit to their villas, the shore of the Adriatic, the Tyrrhenian sea or the lakes. They bathe the face with the white of an egg, well beaten, let it dry on the skin and rinse it off in soft water after fifteen minutes. The treatment is repeated

We Have Cast Our Vote For White Ash Coal

Long ago we realized that it was better to pay a little more for our coal and give the people clean, pure stuff, free from "dead matter" than it was to have one dissatisfied customer.

Good coal—coal that gives the most heat per ton—is that which burns to the fine, white ash. That is why we have cast our vote for this policy in the handling of coal.

NEXT SYNOD MEETS AT STEVENS POINT

NORTHERN CITY CHOSEN AT SESSION OF CONVENTION THIS MORNING.

SESSIONS END TODAY

Program Today Devoted Largely to Cause of Foreign Missions—Rev. Arthur J. Brown Spoke This Afternoon—Rev. Laughlin's Address.

Stevens Point was named by the Wisconsin Synod of the Presbyterian church, in session this morning, as the meeting place in 1912.

The session of the Synod this morning was devoted largely to the consideration of Foreign Missions, and addresses were given by Rev. Jos. Wilson Cochran, secretary of the education board, Philadelphia, and Rev. Arthur J. Brown, secretary of the board of foreign missions, New York. Rev. J. W. Laughlin of this city also gave an address on the subject of Foreign Missions.

Women's Society Elects.

At the session of the Women's Synodical Missionary society, in session at the Y. M. C. A. building, this morning, the following officers were named: Mrs. C. A. Maynard, Milwaukee, president; Mrs. A. A. Jackson, Janesville, one of the vice presidents; Mrs. Moore of Deloit was one of the newly elected trustees.

The principal address given at the meeting of the women's society this morning was given by Miss M. Josephine Petrie, secretary of the Young People's Board of Home Missions, on the subject of Home Missions. She gave a short sketch of the various fields of work which were to be found in the United States and the present methods of reaching these fields.

All the members of the women's society have been most interesting and closed with the meeting this morning with the exception of several committees and board meetings this afternoon.

Session Tonight.
The Synod will close with the session this evening at which Rev. Jos. W. Cochran, and Rev. Arthur J. Brown will give addresses. The committee on resolutions will also report at the meeting tonight.

Accepted Resignation.

The resignation of Rev. L. C. Smith of Waukegan as synodical superintendent of home missions was accepted by the Synod in the session yesterday afternoon. It was decided to place the entire work of home missions in this state under the direction of the synodical board, which is composed of three members of each of the five presbyteries of the state and three members of the Woman's Missionary board, making eighteen in all. Rev. Jas. Duor, of Waukegan, who is chairman of the board, will have the supervision of the entire work in the state.

Rev. J. W. Laughlin of the local church in his address on Foreign Missions this morning spoke in part, as follows:

"In submitting this report the committee feels profoundly grateful to Almighty God for the degree of success that has attended the work of the missionaries."

Report of Board.

The report of the Board shows that the number of missionaries has increased from 26 in 1837, to 1,630 in 1911. During the last ten years the number of native workers under our employ has grown from 1,841 to 4,368, and the result of their work is seen in that the number of communicants has increased from 41,559 in 1891 to 111,166 in 1911.

"The gain in membership in the foreign field last year was 18,147 or 12 per cent. The gain in membership in the home field was something like 17,914, or a gain of 1 1/2 per cent. On the foreign field the increase in missionary force was 44 per cent. The increase in organized churches was 38 per cent. The increase in native workers was 1.33 per cent. The increase in communicants was 1.75 per cent."

"In education, in evangelization, in medical work and in social uplift there have been marvelous indications of the presence of the Holy Spirit and the success of the past year is put in a dim prophesy of what we may expect as the church comes to an appreciation of her responsibility in giving better conditions to the less fortunate of the human race."

Work Accomplished.

"We must always bear in mind that the work in the foreign field is attended with great difficulties. In spite of the frequent allusions to the ease and luxury of the missionary, made by peripatetic tourists, we must not be blinded to the fact that war, pestilence and famine still lurk in the missionary's pathway. It is a source of satisfaction, although not of very great consequence, that the newspaper correspondents are beginning to see the light with reference to missions. He is a rare correspondent today and practically new to the field, who has not had the highest commendations for the missionary. In view of this we can afford to be patient with the hurried reports of the occasional visitor who, with reference to a work he has not seen and with reference to people he does not know."

Obstacles Overcome.

"When one remembers the flood and the famine in China last year and the flood and the famine and the uprisings this year, when one thinks of the political, economic and social changes now fermenting in that mass of human beings; when one remembers the political unrest of India, the revolution in Persia, the insurrection in Mexico, the war in Japan and now in Turkey, he marvels that any progress which has been made in the face of such contending forces. It is only because the missionary regards himself as a soldier of Christ, with his station as a post of duty which he will not desert, that he remains, hoping for the dawn of a better day. The terrors and the sorrows of the people increase rather than diminish the opportunities of such a man for service and thus in the presence of apparently insuperable obstacles and apparently tumultuous conditions the work goes steadily on, and year by year

Synod in Wisconsin.
The part which Wisconsin has taken in this work is seen in that our contributions in 1909 were $11,633; in 1910, $11,702; in 1911, $16,426. Considering the fact that our contributions to Home Missions were about $15,000, we feel that the interest in the extension of the Kingdom is not dead in our Synod, with 18,000 members. We are asking a small increase in the contributions over last year and believe that by following the suggestions of the Executive Commission the brethren will be able to reach the amount asked for."

ODD FELLOWS RETURN FROM PLATTEVILLE

Report Good Attendance and First Class Entertainment at Annual State Encampment.

Mr. and Mrs. James Paterson, Fred H. Koebelin, Ed. Smith and Hugh McCaffrey returned last evening from Platteville where they attended the annual grand encampment of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and Department Council of the Patrons of the Militant. They report a good average attendance and speak very highly of the entertainment afforded the visiting Odd Fellows by the Platteville lodges and citizens.

Among the important measures taken at the encampment was the ratification of the action of the Sovereign Grand Lodge prohibiting smoking at lodge meetings, and the voting of $100 for the relief of black river falls Odd Fellows who were ruined by the recent flood.

The following officers were elected: Grand Patriarch, H. H. Rogers of Appleton; Grand High Priest, John Clark of Superior; Grand Senior Warden, A. Karris, Hudson; Grand Junior Warden, W. C. North, Fond du Lac; Grand Representative, A. J. Colwell, Oconto; Trustee, H. H. Kohn of Milwaukee.

James Paterson of Janesville, was re-elected Grand Scribe, and L. F. Thiesen of Oshkosh was re-elected Grand Treasurer. Fred Williams of Milwaukee was appointed Grand Marshal, George Gerlach of Viola, Grand Secretary, and Fred Anderson of Marinette, Grand Outside Sentinel.

LOUISIANA ORANGES ON LOCAL MARKETS

First of Winter Fruit to Appear. Green Figs, Pomegranates an Spanish Onions Today.

Louisiana oranges are on the market now. The first shipments were received yesterday and the fruit is of excellent quality and appearance. Oranges have been on the market all summer but the quality of summer oranges does not come up to that of the winter product and from now on they will become larger and cheaper as the season advances.

Green figs and pomegranates are offered today in small quantities at five cents each. These fruits are not very plentiful as a rule and it is not very often that they may be obtained. Spanish onions have arrived which are the best seen for a long time. They are large and mild and are selling at seven cents a pound.

WESTERN UNION WILL HAVE NEW OFFICES

Dissolving Alum.
When alum is intended for external use, where it is purposely to cauterize the flesh, as in the case of fever blisters and heated or even frost-bitten feet, if it is dissolved in alcohol it will be twice as effective. The alcohol is quickly absorbed by the flesh, carries some of the dissolved alum with it, and, therefore, less applications will be required to achieve the desired results.

Test That Failed.
Jean is a very matter-of-fact lot of three summers. Her mother one day, while holding in her arms the wee baby sister, who was very delicate, remarked: "Dear me, she looks so frail a breath would blow her away." Jean, taking a long breath, puffed it suddenly into the face of the little sister, and, stepping back, waited a moment in silence. Then in a disappointed tone she said: "Well, why don't you go?"

Few There Are Who Learn Wisdom.
A Chicago woman tried to undo a hard knot in her dress by burning it. She succeeded in exactly the same swift, comprehensive way in which the reluctant morning fire is started with kerosene. So few are the wise people who learn from experience of the foolish ones.

Save the Meat Skewers.
A meat skewer of hard wood is a most useful tool, especially for cleaning a window sash. It goes into corners after dirt that no finger is tapering enough to reach.

City Without Pawnbrokers.
Quebec is a city without pawnbrokers, the last person in that business, having died about thirty years ago. Since that time, it is said, no person has applied for a license. The high license fee is held responsible to a considerable extent for this unusual state of affairs.

Legal Qualifications.
It seems that a lawyer is something of a carpenter. He can file a bill, split a hair, chop logic, dovetail an argument, make an entry, get up a case, frame an indictment, impanel a jury, put them in a box, nail a witness, hammer a judge, bore a court, shave a note, "grind an axe," chisel a client, and other like things.

The Boy Puzzle
By Dr. J. S. Kirtley

HE AND HIS TEACHER.

His infatuation with school work is not always immediate and tremendous. Sometimes it comes just as his opportunity for going to school is vanishing and all the rest of his days he will have periods of penitence over his folly, and will frequently wish the teacher or his parents had taken the big stick to him unflinchingly. Sometimes he never cares for what he has learned; but we seldom find that sort of a man. His teacher, as an essential part of the school system, may fall under the same reprobation, till his period of incorrigible outpathy for schools is over and then that same teacher will rise into heroic stature before his eyes.

He may naturally take to schools, with the teacher thrown in, asking no questions on that point, but plenty of them on other points. In that case he makes fair weather with parents, teacher, school board and the public generally. Such a good reputation so absolutely awaits any boy who will go after it in that way we wonder how it ever fails to be a greater attraction to him than any amount of fun or self-will can be. But all the mysteries, have not yet been solved, even with the sacred assistance of psychology and pedagogy.

Between those two extremes there is a golden and practicable mean into which a boy can often be guided, if the right kind of a teacher gets hold of him, especially if that teacher has the co-operation of the right kind of parents.

In order to be a success with him, the teacher must have a couple of eyes, good for not seeing as well as for seeing, an active child element in her own nature, a hand that is fine as well as firm, and a spirit that is always fair and always friendly. These things would make her a paragon and such she ought to try to be, at least. The boy will like her and show it in his own way, not as a little girl would, by putting his arm around her and telling her how he loves her. You never catch him at that. The terms in which he expresses his appreciation of her may not always be classical literature, but they convey his idea clearly. A boy I know speaks of his teacher, Miss A., as "dandy," and even sometimes as "peachy."

The American boy averages only four years in school before he is twelve and not many after that age. It is hard to hold him. A natural dislike for school, the need of his services at home, the necessity of working to support the family, the distracting fascinations of money-getting, all militate against his completing the course. But the teacher may hold him at the breaking up time; and, if not, she should be able to say she did all she could for him.

The best thing she ever does for him is what she does with him and through him. And when she enters into the work she assigns or guides him in choosing for himself, and becomes his coworker, she reigns as queen in that school. When he knows her mind is travelling with his mind, in its tollsome journey through the fields of knowledge, he learns to put her valuation on the work, because he puts a high valuation on her. If she only has sense enough to let him do a little dreaming with her entire approbation, he is sure to think she is competent to guide his dreams into their embodiment in deeds. If his plans are of any interest to her and she will encourage him to tell about them, she has him on her side.

Where vocational training is given, as is now being done in some places, and will be done a great deal more in the future, the teacher and he will have much more in common. The schools are now considering the "whole child" as at school, not his mind alone, and we may expect a great deal more for the boy, from that fact. Even personal problems are within the teacher's observation, and he may be much assisted by frank talks, if she knows how to invite confidence and clear up difficulties, and he may be unconsciously aided by a fine and directive attitude on her part.

He has a special fondness for teachers who can make use of the general knowledge he has as a starting point for further knowledge, especially in the subject they are studying; and for the one who can find practical uses for the things they are studying, especially if it is constructing machinery, or even literature, he has a still greater fondness; and the one who can connect up the studies, with the activities of the calling he aspires to follow, is on the pinnacle of honor. When who can use figures in engineering, chemicals in photography, projectiles in the study of war, the teacher is educating him in the true sense.

When the teacher knows the crises through which he passes in all their stages and struggles, in all their symptoms and suggestions, and gives him something positive rather than negative, makes wholesome things attractive and wrong things repulsive, encourages individuality and proves a good friend as well as a capable teacher, such work wins him forever. After a certain stage, in the early teens, that teacher ought to be a man.

Wifely Ideal Too High.

PARTY WAS GIVEN FOR MISS SHERGER

Thirty-Five Young Ladies Entertained at Home of Mrs. Charles Bullard Last Evening.—Social Items.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Evansville, Oct. 12.—About thirty-five friends were entertained at the home of Mrs. Charles Bullard last evening, at a miscellaneous show, in honor of Miss Daisy Sherger. The guests were first set at work hemming towels and napkins; also buttonhole holders. Then each one was given a sheet of paper upon which was to be written a very reliable recipe. Lastly much fun was enjoyed in making a sketch book. When all were completed delicious refreshments, consisting of ice cream, nut cake and cake were served, after which a large basket was brought forth, the contents of which the bride-to-be was told to explore. In it were many fine pieces of linen, silver, china, all kinds of cooking utensils and pictures.

At a late hour the guests departed having spent a very enjoyable evening. Those present were: Misses Bessie Morrison, Fern Hall, Cleve Gilman, De Eite Morrison, Hattie Chaplin, Frances Seales, Bernice Gray, Lola Smith, Della Heubel, Caroline Hatch, Nora Fellows, Brenda Fellows, Marion Purinton, Daisy Spencer, Laverne Gillies, Gertrude Eager, and Mesdames Anna, John Shelby, Glen McGee, Wm. Schneider, Dan McMillan and Max Fisher.

Mrs. Amelia Anderson and Fritz Lindner, who were married at Stoughton Wednesday afternoon, came here to evade their friends to take the 4:40 train for Milwaukee, but a few of the young ladies kindly followed in an auto and very generously showered them with rice many minutes before the train arrived and as they departed. Those here were Mesdames Winifred Sullivan, Maude Pierce, Mae Pierce, Mrs. Emil Olson, and Mrs. J. W. Pfanner.

Chinese wild silk is said to be practically indestructible. It can be buried for over a year without great ill effect.

Greatness.
The man who thinks he is truly great isn't unless he puts in part of his time thinking other things.

Rivulets and the Rivers.

All are to be men of genius in their degree—rivulets or rivers. It does not matter, so that the souls be clear and pure; not dead walls, encompassing dead heaps of things, known and numbered, but running waters in the sweet wilderness of things unnumbered and unknown, conscious only of the living banks, on which they partly refresh and partly reflect the flowers, and so pass on.—Huskin: The Stones of Venice.

One of Life's Problems.
We are involved so early in the prejudices of so many whose interest is concerned to communicate them to us, that it becomes extremely difficult to distinguish through the rest of life what is natural to us and what is artificial.

Foxes Bred for Their Coats.
Blue Arctic Foxes are bred extensively on the islands of the Alaska coast. These creatures cannot be tamed, but they are fed all the year round and trapped in special houses in the winter when their coats are in suitable condition.

Blistering Once Universal.
Blistering formerly was an almost universal treatment for internal congestion to draw the diseased fluid to the surface. It acted as a counter-irritant. It was also used for scabies. Blistering is still used to a considerable extent, but a milder application is more frequently employed.

Cannon Balls of Stone and Iron.
Stone bullets were used until the year 1614 when they were supplanted by iron. It was near the close of the sixteenth century before leaden bullets were generally adopted. Stone cannon balls are yet used in some of the eastern countries.

Exquisite Elegy Tribute to Friend.

The early death of Keats rubbed Shelley of a dear friend, but led to the writing of the exquisite elegy "Adonais," and it is rather touching to recall that when Shelley was drowned, a year and a half later, a copy of Keats' poems was found open in his coat pocket when his body was washed ashore.

Pots and Kettles.
I saw a friend impatiently cleaning a benn pot. I said to her: "Fill that with cold water; put in a teaspoonful of baking soda; cover and set in the oven. When it has boiled half an hour it will be as easy to wash as a coffee cup." Clean fish and meat roasting pans in the same way.—Good House-keeping.

The Potato Industry in the Stanley Country

While thousands of pages have been devoted to the "Story of the Wheat" and "King Cotton," the humble potato, the "Spud" of commerce, the "Murphy" of slang, has been neglected to such an extent, that the average citizen probably knows as little about it as he does of the far famed dodo.

The average potato crop of the country is three hundred million bushels, and of this, the states of New York, Maine, Michigan and Wisconsin produce about one-third.

Potatoes are a very profitable crop, often yielding $100.00 per acre and some don't less than $50.00. The net profit to the grower is probably larger than on any other crop which is raised on a large scale. In Northern Wisconsin potato fields of forty and even seventy acres are not uncommon, and some growers plant as many as two hundred acres per year.

The potato belt in Wisconsin enjoys a large share of the prosperity now so general throughout all farming sections.

One sixty acre field near Stanley produced a crop of Triumph potatoes, which sold in the field for $5,500.00. Land rental, seed, cultivation and all other expenses totaled $1,500.00, leaving a net profit of $2,500.00, or nearly $40.00 per acre.

"Everyone works at potato digging time."

Thus you see we have in the common vegetable a large income, each year if we but take advantage of the opportunity.

We can sell you land in this section of the country at prices ranging from $12.50 to $20.00 per acre and make easy terms of payment. Call on our local agent and he will tell you more about this wonderful country.

MILTON JUNCTION NEWS

MILTON JUNCTION IS VERY PROGRESSIVE

NOT INCORPORATED BUT IS UP-TO-DATE AND GROWING.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS

Good Buildings, Fine Prospects for the Future—Modern Conveniences.

(By Staff Correspondent.)
Milton Junction, Oct. 12.—Lying about eight miles northwest of Janesville, and in the township of Milton, is a pretty little city of a thousand population, which presents one of the most curious features in Rock county, in that, while its population is sufficient to make it one of the best of the smaller cities in this section of the state, and while its business and social interests are of an equal caliber, yet it has never even been incorporated as a village under the laws of the state and remains a part of the township in which it is situated.

STREET SCENE WITH PROPOSED STREET CAR SYSTEM IN OPERATION.

The officials of Milton township act in the same capacity for the village. Its money and improvements come from the town treasury and in every way the two are identical.

Notwithstanding the lack of incorporation the village shows improvements on a par with any town in the county. Evidence of a real civic pride are on every hand. The well-kept, oiled streets, the beautiful lawns, the modern dwellings and the up-to-date business houses all point to the fact that the place is alive and growing.

Aside from its natural advantages, which are numerous, the village possesses railroad facilities second to none, being a junction point of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, and the Northwestern railroads. It has a school system that is ideal and the largest boiler factory in the southern section of the state is located here. An electric lighting system, a water plant, two banks and three blocks of business houses are also within what should be its boundaries.

The past year has been a prosperous one with the town. The farming country surrounding has produced a bumper crop, the business houses all report a splendid year's business, new homes have been built and others improved, and a general air of prosperity is evident on every hand.

During the year a new bank building has been erected and a banking company known as the Farmers' State Bank of Milton Junction has been incorporated with a capital of $25,000, and has since the fifteenth of July been open for business in the town. That its presence was necessary and welcome is shown by the fact that in three months the company has secured a patronage in the way of deposits of $15,000.

J. A. Paul, president of the town board, is also president and cashier of the new bank. He has served the town in the capacity of chairman of the board for over fifteen years. The stockholders and other officers of the bank are all local farmers and business men.

Beside the bank perhaps the most notable improvement is the newly organized McGowan Light, Water and Power company which was incorporated but a month ago with a capitalization of $10,000, for the purpose of furnishing electric lights, water and fire protection to the citizens. E. C. McGowan is president and owner of the new company and has at the present time a plant which would be the pride of a much larger city than Milton Junction.

The light plant is equipped to furnish electricity for 1,000 lights. The water plant has a capacity far beyond what is now needed. About the present time about half of the business houses are equipped with the new lights and a portion of the private homes. Nearly two miles of water mains are in place and as much more is being laid as rapidly as possible.

Mr. McGowan came to Milton Junction about thirteen years ago from the city of Whitewater and engaged in the oil business. Acting as a freelance, its interests are with the country with which it is surrounded and as one of its prominent citizens recently stated, its incorporation would come when it was needed.

MILTON JUNCTION.

Milton Junction, Oct. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Will Moore returned to their home in Chicago, Tuesday, after spending a few days at the home of his aunt, Mrs. James Moriarty.

Willie Cole has returned here for a short stay after putting in the summer with the Lincoln baseball team at Lincoln, Nebraska.

Oscar Callison of Janesville is working for George Hunsinger for a few days.

Mrs. Gillman Jones and daughter are visiting in Fort Atkinson.

Rev. Starkweather and family left Wednesday for their home in Little Falls, N. Y.

Mrs. Fred Bosh of Whitewater called on friends a short time, Tuesday.

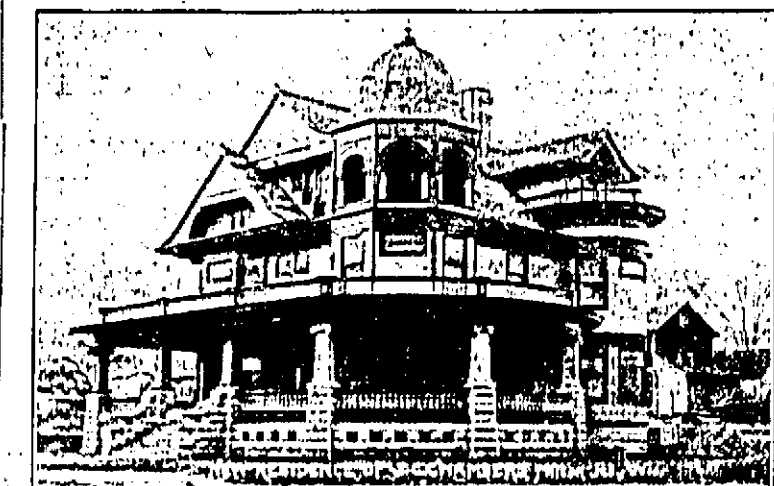

Carl Monz, son of Al. Menz, is sick with diphtheria. He is reported as a little better this morning.

The minstrel show held Tuesday evening, one of the lecture course numbers, was well attended and very satisfactory.

SUGAR FACTORY TO RESUME OPERATIONS

Beet Sugar Factory Expected to Be in Full Blast the Latter Part of the Week.

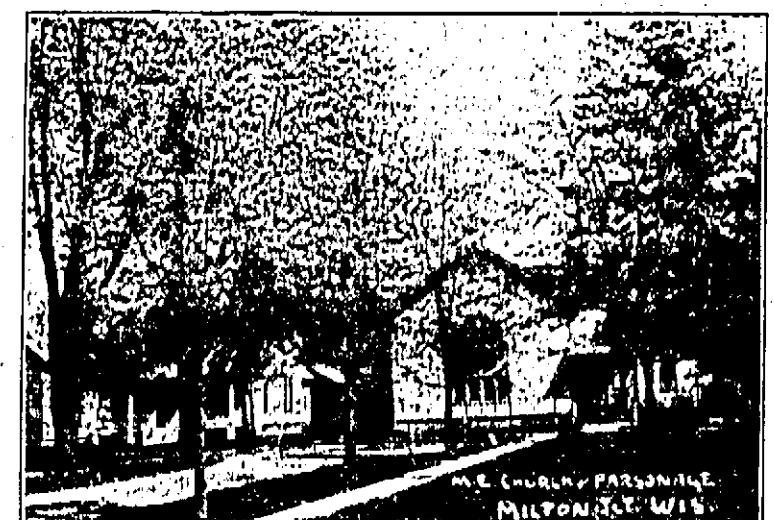

Owing to the bad weather and severe rains in this vicinity the Rock County Sugar Beet company have been hindered in beginning operations at their large factory in South Janesville, but as the weather has resumed promising conditions the beets are being dug throughout this section and hauled and shipped to the factory in immense quantities. The farmers are taking advantage of the fine weather this week and it is a common sight to see wagonloads after wagonloads of the beets passing along the streets on their way to the factory. The company have under contract a large number of acres of beets this year and it is thought that the season of 1911 and 1912 will be one of the most profitable in years.

For the past three days the machinery has been tested and things around the factory have been repaired and cleaned up in readiness for the starting on a moment's notice.

Up to the present time twenty-four carloads of the beets have been received from nearby localities and these cars contain all the way from twenty to thirty tons per car and are being unloaded as fast as possible into the capacious bins at the factory.

In addition to the many tons received over the railroad, farmers are constantly bringing large loads from the nearby community. It is estimated that at the present time there are in the neighborhood of fifty carloads which are in the bins and are ready for use upon the starting of the machinery in the factory.

The company intends employing from four hundred to five hundred people this year and if the weather permits will start operations in earnest on Friday. The plant, when once started, will be kept in operation until the end of the sugar beet season and half the employees will work on the night shift, exchanging with the day shift every two weeks, and in this way an immense quantity of syrup can be extracted from the beets in a short time.

The company have built a new tank of mammoth proportions south of the building for storing the syrup, and with the ones already placed in the vicinity of this large one, will be amply able to accommodate all the syrup extracted from the beets.

FILE DESCRIPTIONS OF NEWLY SURVEYED PLATS IN COUNTY

Scott's Addition to the Village of Avalon and Richard's Spring Plat in Town of Fulton, Are New Descriptions.

Descriptions and maps of two new plats of Rock county property were filed in the office of the register of deeds today. One of these is what is known as Scott's addition to the village of Avalon and the other is Richard's Spring Plat of property on the northern bank of Rock river in the town of Fulton.

The Avalon property has just been surveyed at the instance of the owners of the property and the new plat is located just south and slightly west of the C. M. and St. P. railway station at that village. It consists of two blocks of land and two half blocks, the entire plat containing thirty-three lots, all laid out at present. The addition is bounded on the north by Gardner street, on the east by Locust street, and on the west by Scott street. Highland avenue runs east and west dividing the full block from the half blocks and Pleasant street runs north and south through the addition. The owners of the various lots are J. C. Scott, Wm. A. Dean, S. M. Clapper, Allen Dodge, and C. J. Stoney. The addition was laid out with the view of prospective sales, of lots and the building of residences.

Richard's Spring Plat in the town of Fulton consists of eleven lots bordering on, or facing, the north bank of Rock river. They are designated as lots one to eleven, the first five lots being located slightly back from the river, and owned by the following persons: Little Charles, Fred C. Meyer, C. W. Hirschmeyer, E. S. Hatch and L. H. Towrie. The other six are located down the river on the shore and are owned by George L. Richardson. The plat is laid out with right of way leading to the various lots.

JOHNSTOWN.

Johnstown, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Mary Rockwell of Atchison, Kansas is visiting old friends and neighbors.

James Haight is building a new double corn crib.

The remains of Carroll Hawthorn of Janesville were tenderly laid to rest in the village cemetery Monday afternoon.

Mrs. J. Haight, J. W. Jones, P. J. McFarlane joined a party of invited guests Tuesday and spent a pleasant afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Earl Fairfield.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones entertained at dinner Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. T. Mc-

PUT HIS FOOT IN IT.

A young surgeon, who was very retiring and awkward, was asked to dinner by a lady who was at least fifty and tried to pass herself off as twenty, and apparently imagined that being rude and tomboyish assisted to sustain the youthful illusion.

At dinner she asked him to carve a fowl, and, never having carved a fowl before, and being painfully shy, he made a mess of it. Instead of trying to cover his confusion his hostess called attention to it pointedly by looking down the table and saying loudly: "Well, Mr. P., you may be a very clever surgeon, but if I wanted a leg off I should not come to you to do it."

"No," he replied, politely; "but then, you see, you are not a chicken."

Not at Home.

A New York lawyer sent his office boy to deliver a note marked "Mr. Williams, Personal." In a few minutes the boy returned with his report: "Mr. Personal was not in," he said.

High-Priced Stallion.

The thoroughbred stallion, Flying Fox, is dead. He cost M. Edmond Blanc, the noted French breeder, $100,000, but proved to be a profitable investment at that, owing to his success in the stud.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

Pigs trouble is rare in pigs.

Constant care is what develops the pigs into market toppers.

An occasional feed of oats will be valuable for the brood sow.

Alfalfa is a great feed for the brood sow in summer and winter.

Two liters of pigs a year is about what the best sows will do.

Don't expect to work your horses sixteen hours a day just because you do.

To produce milk a cow must have good food and an abundance of fresh water.

The hog house should be built on high ground so that it will have good drainage.

The feed for the mother sow is an important item in securing growth in the lamb.

Illage is to be one of the great feeds of the corn belt in the not distant future.

When you are fattening hogs, it is easy to make the mistake of giving too much corn.

The hog is considered a dirty animal, but no creature enjoys a clean, dry bed more than a hog.

Rail corn alone is said to make large quantities of excellent silage very nearly equal to corn silage.

Environment has a greater effect on the lamb when it is young than at any other period of its career.

The consensus of opinion among shepherds is that the docking should be done when the lamb is about two weeks old.

A balky horse is made so by a cranky or cruel driver, and can rarely be cured. So be very careful in breaking the colts.

When fattening hogs on clover they should be fed corn only once a day, and that late in the evening, thus inducing them to eat as much clover as possible.

Never Drink Water.
In Lower California a large number of the smaller desert mammals never drink water, according to American scientists who have recently visited the peninsula. They live and thrive on dry seeds and scraps of vegetation in places where the heat and aridity are excessive without ever touching their lips to water, and it has even been found impossible to teach some of them to take water in captivity.

News Disseminators.
A minister at a camp meeting was delivering a discourse on pride, and in cautioning the ladies against it, he said: "And you, dear sisters, may feel proud that our Lord paid you the distinguished honor of appearing first to one of you after the resurrection; but you have no reason for it, as it was undoubtedly done that the glad tidings might spread sooner."

HEART AND HOME TALKS

BY BARBARA BOYD

Learn to Live.

VACATION is over, and Katharine has returned to her work feeling fine. She is rested, she has had a good time. She is overflowing with vitality and high spirits. Work goes easily. She feels as if she could move mountains.

But next spring, Katharine will be all worn out. She won't have a grain of energy. Work will be a drag. She will be taking tonics to spur up an appetite. Life will seem hardly worth living.

And Katharine is no exception. Thousands of business girls have the same experience. So also do thousands of business men. It likewise is the experience of the busy housekeeper and mother. What is the cause of it? What has happened in these six or eight months to drain this overflowing vitality until it sinks almost to the zero point?

Many things cause it, but the real cause back of them all seems to be that we do not know how to live. We know many things in this wonderful age. But looking about us at our full hospitals, at the ever-increasing number of doctors' signs, at apothecaries' shelves filled with boxes and bottles, it does seem as if we do not know how to live.

If you stop to think of it, how did all the hundreds of diseases from which we suffer come about? Undoubtedly through ignorance in some form. If, as some claim, diseases come through the mind, it is lack of understanding that permits their mental entrance. The old Hindus claim that perfection of knowledge will cure all ills. And so whether our troubles are spiritual, mental or physical, ignorance seems to lie at the root of them. We do not know how to live.

One of our great fields of ignorance in the art of right living is food. Wrong eating is one of the chief causes of our physical ills. Again, sometimes we know, but fail to do. But whether it is ignorance or indifference, the result is the same—disease fastens itself upon us. One must both know and do.

The business man or woman usually starts digestive troubles by bolting his breakfast. It seems a little matter, no harm seems done at first, and the practice is continued. The ill effects are helped along by a hurried or injudicious lunch. After a month or two of this, the one who has returned from vacation feeling fine, begins to feel languid, tired. There is no energy. The appetite begins to fail. Many things are blamed, principally over-work; when very often the chief cause of the trouble is dietetic.

Certain laws of chemistry underlie the food question, and there is no escaping the ill effects if these laws are broken. Yet the majority of us go gayly on our way, as if there were no such laws. For instance, most of us break one of these laws every morning in the eating of our oatmeal. Oatmeal and most of the cereals served for breakfast are composed largely of starch. The digestion of starch begins in the mouth, but starch is not digested in the stomach. These cereals therefore should be thoroughly chewed, so that the saliva may mix with them, and start the digestive operation. But nearly every one swallows his oatmeal without chewing, and it lies, a heavy, undigested mass in the stomach, until the poor, over-worked stomach can get up energy to pass it on.

Chewing is necessary quite as much for the proper admixture of saliva with food, as for breaking it up into small particles. When food is bolted or swallowed without the proper mastication, it acts in many ways as a poison. It must be remembered that the stomach, as some one has said, has no teeth, and if food gets by the teeth without their having done their proper work, trouble is surely going to ensue.

It seems a very simple thing to chew our food. And yet we simply don't do it. We eat without chewing and then take a pill or a tonic to help our digestion. We certainly do not know how to live.

Not only does food need to be chewed, but liquids need to be sipped. Their ingredients need to be mixed with the saliva the same as more solid food.

And not only does chewing and sipping properly start the work of digestion, but it stimulates the sense of taste. This causes the gastric juice to flow in the stomach, and thus the stomach is prepared to digest the food when it reaches it.

So you see, there is a close connection among all these operations of digestion. And when one is not performed properly, the rest is thrown out of gear.

If one's time for eating is short, it is better to eat little and eat it properly, than to bolt a lot hurriedly. Eating properly is one of the signposts on the road to good health, and those who want to retain the vitality they have stored up this summer, should take heed of this little guide-board, as they shoulder their burden of winter work.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

IF THE sum total of all the unhappiness caused by people who murder and the sum total of all the unhappiness caused by people who tease could be reckoned, which do you think would be the greater?

Myself, I haven't a doubt but that the latter would make the former look like a molehill beside a mountain.

Sometimes I almost wonder if teasing isn't the unpardonable sin. Perhaps before you decide that I'm altogether talking nonsense I'd better give you an idea of what I mean by teasing.

I know a certain brother and sister who live together, and who are exceptionally fond of each other. The brother is an exemplary brother in most ways. He supports his sister in comfort. He often denies himself for her sake. He is very thoughtful and frequently brings her lovely gifts when he comes back from business trips. I know he would feel terrible if anything should happen to her and I am sure she adores him.

And yet their home is not a happy one. Why? Because he will tease her.

She has an unfortunate trick of mixing up names, and saying just the exact opposite of what she means.

For instance, she will say, "I think I'll wear my thick dress, because it is so warm," when she means "so cold."

Or, she will be telling about a call from her Cousin Ruth, and half the time she will refer to Ruth as Anne, who is her older sister.

Now what she means is always perfectly obvious. And yet the brother is never satisfied to tolerate the mental correction, and let it go at that. He always laughs, an irritating, nagging little laugh, and says sarcastically, "You are going to wear a thick dress because it is so warm, are you?"

Or "What's that?" I thought you said Ruth was here, and now you are talking about Anne."

Of course that frets his sister and she says something tart in return, and in a moment they are at loggerheads with each other.

Then again, he knows that if he says certain things she will be disturbed and will protest and he never omits an opportunity of saying these things and then explaining after the protest comes, "I knew I'd get a rise out of you."

Whereupon the dove of peace again flies out the window, or up the chimney if the window is shut.

And so in this home where peace and harmony might reign there is discord and antagonism just about half the time, all because of these and other little habits of teasing.

Now that's just one illustration of what I mean by teasing. But I know it's enough to start a train of thought that will take you to some other illustration among your acquaintances or perhaps even in your own family.

And what on earth is the use. Is it possible that the brother has enough amusement from correcting his sister's little mistakes or "getting a rise out of her" to make up for the discord that fills their home?

Isn't it strange to reflect that there are thousands of homes where the members of the family love each other very dearly and would be heart-broken over a vacant chair and yet cannot refrain from teasing each other, thus causing those they love so dearly much unnecessary unhappiness?

To be happy and to make others happy—it seems to me that this very nearly covers "the whole duty of man."

And think how thoroughly they fail of it, who tease.

The KITCHEN CABINET

AN IDEAL most dreamed of for the day.

Upon his Alpine heights away; All the broad view of the world to him, Were menial of a lowering widow.

A little window comfort brought To me by toll and trial taught; And in the sunlight shining through He saw the goal that he could do.

—F. W. Hunt.

OCTOBER BREAKFASTS.

The spicy mornings of the autumn makes one feel like eating a hearty breakfast. We will have the luscious apple for some time yet and pears and apples are in their prime.

In many homes cereals, that is, the cooked ones, are never served at all, because of the difficulty of getting them cooked properly. The inscription on the box generally reads, "Cook twenty minutes." This should be multiplied by eight to have a digestible and well-cooked food.

For those who possess a fireless cooker, the problem is solved, for the cereal may boil twenty minutes, then put it into the cooker and leave over night. Reheat, and it is ready for the most delicate stomach.

For those who have no cooker, either home-made or manufactured, it is the custom to set the cereal cooking in a double boiler and allow it to cook all during the dinner hour. Then cover closely and set away to be reheated in the morning. Well-cooked cereal with good rich milk makes a sufficient meal for the growing child and will have sufficient staying power to keep the little ones from getting hungry before noon.

A bit of bacon is always appetizing for a cool morning breakfast, and with an egg and a piece of well-toasted bread or a muffin or two, grown-ups will be able to worry along until dinner time at noon.

Cocoa is a good drink for children occasionally, but too much is bad for the digestion. A glass of warm milk is easier digested than cold and on a cool morning it is very satisfactory.

An occasional morning of griddle cakes is appreciated and waffles once in a while go well these cool days, but it is yet a little early to eat much of such food.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

LINCOLN'S FIRST VISIT TO CHICAGO.

By A. W. MACY.

At the great river and harbor convention held at Chicago in 1847 "Hon. A. Lincoln" was enrolled as one of the three delegates from Sangamon county, Ill.

In the official proceedings of the convention, published shortly afterward, it is stated in one place that "Abraham Lincoln of Illinois being called upon addressed the convention briefly. The secretary did not think his speech important enough to quote, but there was one man among the delegates who appreciated it. Horace Greeley wrote to his paper, the New York Tribune: "In the afternoon Hon. Abraham Lincoln, a tall specimen of an Illinoisan, just elected to congress from the only Whig district in the state, was called on and spoke briefly and happily." And the next day the Chicago Journal gave the young politician this send-off: "Abraham Lincoln, the only Whig representative to congress from this state, we are happy to see in attendance upon the convention. This is his first visit to the commercial emporium of the state, and we have no doubt his visit will impress him more deeply, if possible, with its importance, and inspire a higher zeal for the great interest of river and harbor improvements. We expect much of him as a representative in congress and we have no doubt our expectations will be more than realized, for never was reliance placed in a nobler heart and a sounder judgment. We know the banner he bears will never be soiled."

INQUIRIES START ON PURPOSE OF CONTEST

Interest Shown in the Latest Woman's Contest Offered by the Gazette.

Early this morning the telephone bells began ringing with requests for the Contest Editor by anxious readers of this page. They wanted more details on the present contest. This shows that the page is read and interest taken in the various contests that have been conducted in the past.

The present contest appeals to the woman of the home. It is meant to do so. It is hoped that the answers received, when published, will be of further aid in deciding how best to prepare for the winter months. One lady telephoned this morning asking if the contest was open to persons who did not keep house but had their own views on the subject and was assured that it was open to ALL WOMEN READERS OF THE GAZETTE, whether they live in a house, on a farm, or a good old fashioned roomy house or a modern one to date structure.

What the Contest Editor wants is for the contestants to write their own views on the subject. How to best prepare for the winter food supply, if you live in a big stock of groceries, if you put away your potatoes, apples, beets, cabbages and garden product, in your cellars or root houses. If you buy your flour by the barrel, your sugar by the hundred pounds and other supplies in proportion, why write how you do it. If you have put down your winter's supply of eggs, how did you do it? Is it the most economical? Give us your reasons for doing as you have.

If you live in a flat what plans do you make? Do you fill your spare pantry shelves with canned goods bought by the case, if you depend entirely upon your grocer to supply you with what you want write about it and tell your reasons why and what methods you would adopt.

If you live in a big roomy house, with plenty of cellar room, lots of pantries, do you lay in a supply or what do you do to prepare for the winter? If you heard but have your own ideas as to what would be a good practical way to lay in a winter supply of groceries or prepare for winter what would you do?

Address all communications to the Contest Editor of the Gazette and remember the articles are limited to five hundred words each. They must be in the hands of the Contest Editor by November 15th which gives you plenty of time to think over and prepare your article.

First Prize—Set of Dishes.

Second Prize—Four Dozen Silver Tea Spoons.

Third Prize—Dinner Courtesy Cook Book.

Fourth Prize—Family Scales.

Fifth Prize—Vacuum Bottle.

GOOD AND BAD COMBINATIONS.

The following combinations are good: Milk and dry toast; slightly cooked or uncooked eggs and toast; nuts and grains; dry bread and milk; bread and meat (if used); dry bread and cheese; macaroni and cheese; all sugar fruits; all acid and sub-acid fruits; all green vegetables, carrots, parsnips, asparagus, etc.

Fair combinations are: Meat and potatoes; acid and sugar fruits; nuts and sugar fruits; fruits and green vegetables.

The following are bad combinations: Milk and meats; milk and acid fruits; milk and green vegetables; fruits and starches; acid fruits, including tomatoes, and meat.

One could write a chapter on fabrics alone this season. And if such a task were attempted, rattine would surely come in for first mention. This material is marvelously soft and delightful to the touch, just a bit rough in surface, with a fine boucle effect, and very thick and warm.

The illustration shows a coat suit on the Russian blouse order, in dark blue rattine, with pipings of rose velvet and rows of tiny black silk embroidered buttons, about the collar, cuffs and lower edge of the skirt.

Thought for Today

ORDERING BY PHONE.

THE telephone,—what a convenience, what a trial. We rejoice that at any moment we can communicate with the outside world, and rebel that we cannot for an instant be free from the interruption of its shrill ring. It has taken possession of the home suddenly and we have no code as to its correct social or economic use.

It is assumed that ordering for the household over the telephone is due to women's indolence and leads to extravagance; that if women go in person and buy they will get better food at lower cost. If this is true there is need of new standards of honor between those who buy and those who sell. Men trust each other in great affairs and transact business altogether by telephone and telegraph, where formerly they went in person.

Women who are taxed for time should use the telephone, as men use it—to accomplish the most in the best way, with the least expenditure of effort. They should mark and shop and "do errands" by telephone. Our grocer knows just as well what we want when we speak to him over the telephone as though we talked face to face. If disappointed in the quality of an article, we can make complaint over the telephone as effectively as personal interview. We can judge of prices as judiciously by telephone inquiry and by looking at the bill that accompanies the delivery as we could in person.

With some, ordering over the telephone lessens rather than increases the monthly bills. We adhere to our carefully prepared list, and are not tempted by the sight of what is unsensational and extravagant. An occasional visit to the market is all that is needful to furnish appetizing variety.

body, and fastens at the left side, with a buckle of yarn embroidery in dark blue, gold and green, with a puff of black satin drawn through it.

The collar finishes in a deep point, at the back, between the shoulder, and the girdle in slashes, knotted at the left side the fringed ends falling gracefully almost to the hem of the skirt. The combination of blue and rose works out beautifully in this costume, the plumes giving just the right touch of color which the rows of black embroidered buttons subdue to a perfect harmony.

The best thing to do is to fit yourself to digest any good food.

We believe we can relieve Dyspepsia. We are so confident of this fact that we guarantee and promise to supply the medicine free of all cost to every one who will test it, who is not perfectly satisfied with the results which it produces. We exact no promises, and put no one under any obligation whatever. Surely, nothing could be fairer. We are located right here and our reputation should be sufficient assurance of the genuineness of our offer.

We want every one troubled with indigestion or Dyspepsia in any form to come to our store and buy a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Take them home and give them a reasonable trial, according to directions. Then, if not satisfied, come to us and get your money back. They are very pleasant to take; they aid to soothe the irritable stomach, to strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, and to promote a healthy and natural bowel action, thus leading to perfect and healthy digestion and assimilation.

A 25c package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets furnishes 15 days' treatment. In ordinary cases, this is sufficient to produce a cure. In more chronic cases, a longer treatment, of course, is necessary, and depends upon the severity of the trouble. For such cases, we have two larger sizes which sell for 50c and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store, The Rexall Store, The Smith Drug Co., 14 West Milwaukee St., Janesville, Wis.

TIRED RUN-DOWN PEOPLE

A North Carolina Man Suggests a Remedy

Greensboro, N. C.—"For a long time I was so run down and debilitated that I could hardly drag around. My appetite was poor and I could not sleep nights. I had tried different so-called tonics without benefit. I was advised to try your cod liver and iron tonic. Vinol, and I am so glad I did, for it gave me a hearty appetite. I soon commenced to sleep soundly, and I feel strong, well and more active than I have for years. Every run-down or debilitated person should just give Vinol a trial." K. Allbrook.

What Vinol did for Mr. Allbrook it will do for every weak, run-down or debilitated person in this vicinity. To show our faith we will furnish the medicine free if it does not do as you claim. Come in and get a bottle on these terms.

FACTS ABOUT INDIGESTION AND ITS RELIEF That Should Interest You

Although indigestion and Dyspepsia are so prevalent, most people do not thoroughly understand their causes and cure. There is no reason why most people should not eat anything they desire—if they will only chew it carefully and thoroughly. Many actually starve themselves into sickness through fear of eating every good-looking, good-smelling, and good-tasting food, because it does not agree with them.

The best thing to do is to fit yourself to digest any good food.

We believe we can relieve Dyspepsia. We are so confident of this fact that we guarantee and promise to supply the medicine free of all cost to every one who will test it, who is not perfectly satisfied with the results which it produces. CHURCH MUST GIVE PRACTICAL SERVICE

CHURCH MUST WAKE UP TO PRESENT RESPONSIBILITIES SAID REV. ODELL IN ADDRESS TO SYNOD.

WIDE SCOPE OF WORK

Of America in the Mission Field Was Treated in Address by Rev. Jos. E. McAfee Last Evening.

Spending on the subject, "The Program of the Individual Church," Rev. Odean Davies Odell, of Indianapolis, emphasized as part of that program the necessity of actual service in the realm of civic affairs, in his address to the Wisconsin Synod in session here last evening.

The matter of service is only one of the three essential factors in the life of the church. But it is in its realization a response to the criticism which is so often heard that the church does nothing practical, that it has no value in the common everyday affairs. It is the shame of our nation, the state of wickedness which exists in our cities. It is the duty of the church to have become enough to correct the evils of the present day; the church has a spiritual mission but the present wickedness will never be made right until the same amount of heroism is exhibited at home as in the field of foreign missions.

Rev. Odell closed his address with the plea that it was the duty of the nation's churches to awaken to the issue and correct the wrongs in our everyday life; advance the standards of morality and justice and squarely face the problems realizing that the statement of Mr. Parker is true, that the wicked will flee when an one is pursuing, but that they will make a great deal better time when some one is after them.

Other functions of the church which were mentioned and explained by Rev. Odell were instruction and education. Regarding the instructional power of the church, the speaker pointed out that they would give a spiritual interpretation to the material things about them. The abundance of the belief that this world is material was evident from the fact that if the spiritual and vitalizing forces were withdrawn from every sphere of our actions all would be chaos, there would be no action or accomplishment.

Regarding the educational purpose of the church, which follows the instructional stage, the speaker declared that he did not know whether we had yet reached this degree. We still need to work in the matter of inspiration. However, he recommended as the best thing which could happen to the church, the foundation of a correspondence school for ministers, in which they could discuss the various problems which came before them and meet on a common ground.

To have a number of illustrations to show how little we know concerning the mission work, the attempt to convert the world, and it was surprising, the speaker said, how little the average layman knew of the church history. Most of the modern movements in religion are merely reactions to formerly practiced heresies, and the people don't know it and so they follow them. In speaking of the educational work of the Sunday school the speaker brought out the necessity of making it different from the public school in its teaching methods, in order to bring out the romantic element which was sure to attract the child.

Rev. McAfee on Missions. Rev. Jos. E. McAfee of New York City, was the first speaker last evening. His address treated of the foreign mission and the power of the United States in spreading the gospel over the entire globe. In beginning his talk, Rev. McAfee stated that this country exerted an influence which might be termed the unofficial foreign mission of the United States. This influence was exerted in numerous ways which were seldom realized, not the least of which were our great army of American tourists, our mammoth commercial trade in all varieties of articles for import and export which brought us into relation with every country in the globe; our great tide of immigration bringing thousands of people here annually who became imbued with our modes of thinking, some of them returning to their native homes carrying back many of the American ideas; the hundreds of young people from every country on the globe coming to our universities each year seeking an education. Those are some of the ways in which the missionary movement is extended throughout the earth which we do not realize.

In continuing his address the speaker declared that there were two reasons why the American people and the American church possessed an extraordinary power in the matter of foreign missionary work. One reason was that we are rich, and the other is that we are democratic. We are destined to be a wealthy nation and it should be our effort to exert our wealth in the right direction, our democracy has been a natural product and has not been the outgrowth of despotism. It is necessary to keep our democracy unimpaired and true to the fundamental principles of brotherhood.

In conclusion the speaker said, "I have every confidence that these two elements in American life are certain to harmonize and if they do we will be capable of sending out a force which will spiritualize the world."

PARTY WAS GIVEN FOR FUTURE BRIDE

Mr. Thornton Read Entertained at La Prairie Home Last Evening for Miss Ada Finch.

(Special to the Gazette.)

East La Prairie, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Thornton Read entertained at her home here last evening in honor of her niece, Miss Ada Finch, who will be married within a short time. There were about forty young people present and the evening was passed most pleasantly in playing hearts. The honoree was won by A. T. Barless and Miss Gladys Franklin, with Robert Barless and Miss Ora Paul taking the second prizes.

The home was beautifully decorated with ferns and flowers, and sprays of autumn leaves served to give the home an attractive appearance. A delicious three-course supper was served toward the close of the evening. Each of the guests brought a sealed envelope which was to be opened at a stated time during the evening. Each contained a line present for the bride-to-be.

CITY OWNERSHIP IS TOPIC FOR TONIGHT

Industrial and Commercial Club Will Discuss Important Matter at 8 P. M.

Whether it would be advisable for the city to purchase and operate the water plant will be the subject for discussion at the meeting of the Industrial and Commercial Club at the Elks' rooms this evening. Several speakers will talk on the pro and con of the subject and will be followed by a general discussion at which time any member who has ideas on the matter will have an opportunity to be heard. As this is one of the important questions which confronts the city at present it is expected that there will be a large attendance at the meeting tonight.

FUNERAL HELD FOR FOOTVILLE RESIDENT

Obituary of Daniel Silverthorn, Who Was an Early Settler in This Locality.

Footville, Wis., Oct. 12.—Daniel Silverthorn was born in Warren county, New Jersey, Oct. 6, 1821, and passed away at his home October 10, 1911, at the age of eighty-nine years and four days.

He was married in 1848 to Miss Maria Johnston and came to Wisconsin in 1849, locating near Footville. From that time on he had been a resident of Footville.

Eleven children were born to this union, eight of whom were present at the time of his last illness.

He suffered a stroke of paralysis September 16th of this year, which, while only a partial stroke, was the cause of his death. He gradually became worse and it was known that the end was near. He was conscious to the last and the passing of his soul was peaceful and calm as a restful slumber.

His children and his leaves one brother, Emory, of that place.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 1:30 at the Christian church, Rev. F. Ambrose officiating. His grandchildren acted as pallbearers.

BARKER'S CORNERS.

Mrs. P. Crowley left for her home in Nebraska Tuesday, after spending three weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McDermott.

Something About Names.—A person will grow to look like and be like his or her name. Algonquins and Redskins of modern times look the part, and owe a deep debt of gratitude to their parents. A young man named Harold or Montgomery would be justified in hiring an automobile and running over his aged parents as they are attempting to cross the street on the way home from church.—New York Times.

To Remove Mildew.—Mix soft soap with powdered starch, half as much salt and the juice of a lemon. Lay this on the part with a brush and then lay the article on the grass day and night until the stains entirely disappear.

UNCLE WALT The Poet Philosopher

Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams BY WALT MASON

Another hope is gone to pieces, another "lion" was a sheep, and where he stood a spot of ground is well met the sports wring hands and weep!

The white man's feet are growing colder, he cannot find a "chump" that will; and o'er the sea the worthy holder of Jeffries' laurels widens his arms.

This thing is true—and all men know it—the "phenomena" here things to scorn; you cannot make a pug or poet—such birds as these are simply born. When Morris heard of how the dingo in a few short rounds brought Jeffries grief, he quit his work upon an engine and thought because he had some beef that he could bring us back the bacon and make our hearts with gladness jump, but now his heart and eyes are achin'!

He is also brooding on the dump, and here there are some fruitful morals, if any wise man for them digs; so many men go after laurels who should be busy feeding pigs.

NOTES FOR CITY FARMERS ONLY.

By H. L. RANN.

One of the most pleasant and profitable crops the farmer can grow is broom corn. The beauty of this crop is that no seed is required.

You can plant an old broom which has been fed through the cream separator and it will grow out a crop which looks like a cane rack at the country fair. We tried this last year with a whisk broom which the hired girl had used to dust the tulle powder out of her ears, and we harvested a half-bearing carpet sweeper with planetary transmission and a suction that would draw the muffs out of a dry goods box.

In Michigan, which is the home of the broom corn industry, the soil is so fertile that a man can plant a feather duster or a deodorized toothbrush and turn in a crop of corn that will run to bushels to the acre, on a good tract. A crop of broom corn will never drive anybody away from a picture of Lily Langtry emerging from the tub, when it comes to beauty, but as a money-maker it makes the United States almost look like Turkey pennies from a slot machine. Beauty is only skin deep, after all, and the average hired man is ornamental enough for any farm.

The farmer who allows a mouse or a blinder to sleep out on the lawn, with no covering for his head but the Milky Way, ought to be appointed guardian ad litem to a goat suffering with gentle dementia. The International Harvester people declare that if the farmers of this country took proper care of machinery they would have to go out of business. A man will buy a $125 harvester, turn it loose near the wood pile and allow it to collect all the rust and June bugs in the neighborhood, then come to town, climb up on a salt barrel and kick about his "hard luck" from 7 a. m. to milking time. We have found out that the kind of "hard luck" lots of men are afflicted with is downright laziness and cursed shiftlessness.

Non-Sulphurous Himself.

Seeking needed and timely information, who wrote the editor of her Chicago paper and this is what he said and did: "How do you take the old-fashioned spring medicine, sulphur and molasses?" is a question in materia medica passed along to us to answer by the editor of woman's page. But we don't take it, madam. We chase our eldest boy around the barn four or five times, corner him in the hen-house, and he takes it. We don't take it, and never could."—Buffalo Times.

Success Apt to Dazzle.

There's a glare about success which is apt to dazzle men's eyes. When we see a man rising in the world, a foolish high opinion is formed of his merits. It is said, "What a wonderful man this must be to rise so rapidly!" forgetting that straw, dust, and feathers—things without value or weight—rise the soonest and easiest. It is not always the great and good man who rises rapidly into wealth and notice.

A LITTLE DANDERINE WILL MAKE YOUR HAIR LUSTROUS, SOFT, FLUFFY, ABUNDANT

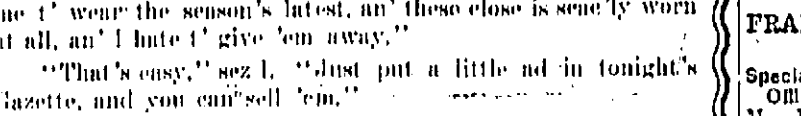

Get a 25 Cent Bottle Now and Forever Stop Falling Hair, Itching Scalp and Dandruff

If you Wish to Double the Beauty of your Hair in Ten Minutes surely Try a Danderine Hair Cleanser

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair-cleanser. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

A delightful surprise awaits particularly those who have been careless, whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

Try as you will, after one application of Danderine you cannot find any dandruff or a loose or falling hair, and your scalp will never itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yet—really new hair sprouting all over the scalp. Danderine makes the hair grow long, heavy and luxuriant and we can prove it. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.

Th' High Cost o' Living

My gracious! 'taint no wonder th' cost uv livin' is on the upward trend, as our president sez. Why, some women don't do more thinkin' than a flat iron. Just this mornin' I wuz over to Missus Seobey's, and she sez 't me, "Auntie 'Wunt, whatever am I going 't do with these clo'es? Will wants me 't wear the season's latest, an' these clo'es is some'y worn at all, an' I hate 't give 'em away."

"That's easy," sez I, "Just put a little ad in tonight's Gazette, and you can sell 'em."

So she did, an' I allow she'll hev more callers tomorrow than she's hed in the las' two weeks hand runnin'.

SECRETARY WILSON'S ADVICE TO FARMERS

Tells Them to Grow Sugar Beets to Reduce Cost of Sugar.

To get cheap sugar all you have to do is to get the poor farmer to raise more beets than he now does and perhaps work a little harder.

This is the solution of Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson, who pays no attention at all to the advice of President Taft and the tariff board that the real remedy is in removing the present high tariff duty and admitting sugar free of duty.

The general public, who are paying 8 and 9 cents a pound for sugar, may not fall in with "Tanna Jim's" solution of the high-price problem, but he holds he has a fairly good grip on the present situation.

He said while in Milwaukee to attend the dairy show that the Wisconsin sugar beet factories could operate to advantage in connection with the dairy industry, in that the refuse from the beet sugar plants makes excellent feed for dairy cattle.

The American farmer can raise enough sugar to supply the world, for even now Colorado, California and Wisconsin are raising great crops, he said.

"We ought to make our own sugar in this country, and this has been my theory ever since I went into the department. Drought in Germany, or revolution in Cuba, could bring no pain to the American housewife if the American farmer seized his opportunity. Relief is even now in sight. When I went into the department the production of the entire country was 3,000 tons, and now it is over half a million tons. There is no trouble at all in the raising of sugar in this northern tier of states. I also look for the reclamation service to bring up the total production, as the beet crop in these now lands is an immediate money crop.

Sees Big Profits.
"Beet sugar is an satisfactory as cane sugar, from the housewife's standpoint, and the crop is one of the most profitable. Where they farm properly the farmers get from $30 to $100 an acre for the crop.

"The development of the sugar beet industry waits upon better farming. Twenty tons an acre can be grown by good farming. The present average in America is ten tons. I have repeatedly said that if we could get the average up to eighteen tons we could take the duty off and defy the foreign crop. But we must wait until the farmer knows how."

Speaking of Wisconsin's dairy industry, which brought him to Milwaukee, he went on:

"The beet sugar and dairy industries go well together. The residue from the sugar factory makes fine feed for the dairyman, who may have trouble when feeding cabbage or potatoes, but not when feeding beets. The tops contain mineral matter required in the growth of the root, and where the top is fed, the fertilizer should be returned to the soil upon which the crop is grown."

Experiments With Seed.

Secretary Wilson has been experimenting with a seed which he hopes will be so perfect that there shall be but one germinating point per seed, thus eliminating the labor of thinning the crop, for the present seed has from one to five germinating points.

"The oncoming sugar product, he said, will lower the present sugar price from the 7 cent figure which now prevails.

INTEREST SHOWN IN LOCAL POSTAL BANK

Deposits Now Amount to Twelve Hundred Dollars—Best in the State.

During the two weeks that the postal savings bank has been running it has taken in forty deposits amounting to twelve hundred dollars. Postal Inspector J. P. Walker made a thorough examination of the local bank yesterday and pronounced it one of the best in the State if not the best. The accounts are better than the average and he thought that they were the best he had seen in this part of the country. The work of opening up postal banks throughout the State is a slow and tedious process and Mr. Walker congratulated the Janesville department upon the speedy way in which they had gotten started and the way the accounts were handled throughout. He made the statement that at the rate the Janesville bank had opened up he thought that this would be a large and important institution within a short time.

Although deposits of less than a dollar are not accepted in this bank, cards may be bought upon which ten cent stamps can be placed from time to time which will be redeemed for their face value when a dollar's worth has been collected. While the regular deposits may not be transferred, these cards and stamps have the advantage of being transferable at will. A great many of these are being sold daily and are very popular with the youthful depositors.

Deposits taken in are duly placed in the local banks subject to the Board of Trustees of the Savings System and bonds taken out which safeguard the government.

Little Bed-Time Tales By EDITH HAVENS

All Aboard

WHERE is your boat going?" asked Hugh as he hoisted the mainsail of his little yacht.

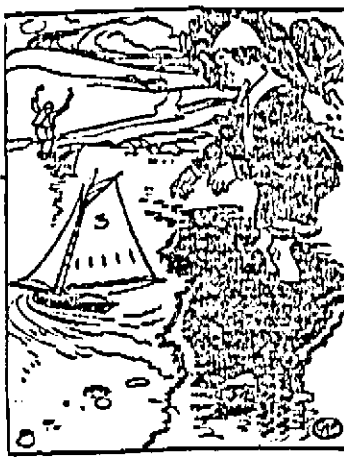

"To London with a cargo of coal," answered Paul from the other side of the brook. "Look out, she's coming now."

Out onto the surface of the water there suddenly appeared the prettiest little boat you ever saw. She was painted white, and as the clean white sails filled with the wind, she skimmed along like a thing alive.

"All aboard," shouted Hugh as he pushed off his boat. "Mine is loaded with carpets for the palace of the king of Spain."

How pretty the two boats looked as they passed each other in midstream. Presently Paul's boat touched the opposite bank, and Hugh, leaning down, said:

"Hullo, is this the Nancy Lee from Spain?"

Someone must have answered, for Hugh called back, "All right! I will unload your coal right away."

Over on the other shore Hugh's boat grounded on the sandy beach, and in a second Paul was unloading the carpets for the King of Spain.

What a busy time it was. The carpets were little pieces of white cloth, while Paul had used small pebbles for coal.

All morning long the boys sailed their boats across the stream, and at one time it was most exciting, for the Nancy Lee was wrecked upon a rock. Paul had to wade right in up to his knees to pull her out.

Just before noon the two boats raced down stream and the Nancy Lee left Hugh's boat far behind.

Did you ever know you could have so much fun with boats before?

Old Superstitions.
Coral beads formerly were worn around the neck of children to prevent nosebleeds. It was also believed that a piece of brown paper placed under the tongue of a child would stop epistaxis.

Love's Spirit Stirring.

"Judge," said the old colored citizen, "how much for a license to get married?" "Want it for yourself?" "Yes, sah; you see I gittin' mighty old now." "That's evident. Then why do you wish to get married?" "Well, Judge, ter tell do truth, somebody gimme a long coat, a linen collar an' a walkin' cane, en I knows a 'oman what says she kin make a livin' fer me, en I feels des like a honeymoon!" —Atlanta Constitution.

Didn't Concern Him.

John Wesley had a reputation for cheerfulness. In his journal he writes: "I preached in Halifax to a civil, senseless congregation. Three or four gentlemen put me in mind of the honest man at London who was so gay and unconcerned while Doctor Sherlock was preaching concerning the Day of Judgment. One asked: 'Do you not hear what the doctor says?' He answered, 'Yes, but I am not of his parish!'"

KEEPING ENGAGEMENTS. The "Honey" boys, which is to appear in this city on Oct. 17, has an enviable record for keeping its engagements, having missed but one date in fifteen years. This was when a blizzard in New York state annulled their train and delayed them eight hours. Mr. Honey does not let his special trains when delayed by accidents. A special train from Hinton to Lynchburg, Va., 10 San Antonio, Tex., and another from San Antonio to Laredo, Texas, are in a determination never to disappoint his audience. A five-hour drive across the North Dakota prairies is a feat with the public at all hazards, even if the cost of special transportation exceeds the fee.

A PAIR OF DANCING BEAUTIES IN "THE GIRL I LOVE," AT THE MYERS THEATRE, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 18.

collected. The artistic, high-class work of "Honey's Boys" is in keeping with their business reputation. When the "Honey Boys" gave a concert in Philadelphia they attended the old Christ church and were honored by being seated in George Washington's pew. Adjoining it was the pew once occupied by Betsy Ross, the maker of the first American flag. At the conclusion of the service a great-grandson of Benjamin Franklin, who still occupies the Franklin pew, took the boys in charge and showed them through the historic edifice, pointing out everything of interest. They also visited Independence Hall, Carpenter's Hall, and sang patriotic songs in the "Betsy Ross House."

"BUSY IZZY." The merry musical comedy, "Busy Izzie," with George Sidney and an exceptionally large cast headed by the charming comedienne, Miss Carrie Webster and containing such well known names as Dick Huiss, Nick Smith, Frank Albion, Walter Webster, Leona Murad and Lottie Lee cord, comes to Myers Theatre this evening, Thursday, Oct. 12. "Busy Izzie" has undoubtedly taken a firm hold upon the affections of amusement seekers, for the reason of its many riled claims of superiority of construction. With a well developed plot to guide the action of its manifold movement, it is reputed to possess such novelty of scenes and incidents as would naturally enhance the value of its character as an advancement of entertaining which is novel in the extreme. Evidently those who have the financial interests of "Busy Izzie" at heart have not overlooked the necessity for providing such a pretty "Push" Miller. Miss Florence Weston, with the organization for the past two seasons, is retained in the role of "Fort," the sweetheart of "Cheekers." She is good looking and talented. Carrie Lamont will be seen in the role of "Cynthia," the maid servant. Pauline Eberhard, Joseph Wilkes, George Merritt, all members of the original cast, are still with the company. The scenic production is carried complete and is the same as when the play was presented in New York City.

OUR NOBILITY.

An Arizona man who was in Chicago recently for the purpose of buying several thousand dollars' worth of things that he needed in his business was entertained at one of the country clubs.

"Now," said his host before they went into dinner, "I wish you would do the club the honor of registering. We like to have the signatures of all prominent men who come here." The Arizona gentleman looked at the register for the purpose of discovering what other prominent citizens had written their names there, and up near the top of the page he noticed the name of Benjamin Hooper II. A little below that was the name of Addison Bosworth III. Evidently Mr. Bosworth had been followed by a humorist, for under his name was written John Smith XIV. "Well," said the Arizona man, "these chaps ain't got nothing on me, I guess."

So he wrote:
"Hank Waffles I."

The Ghost Walked.

The mistaken idea that one's troubles end with death was set aside in Starwich v. Washington Cut Glass Company 21 Wash. Dec. No. 12 (Adv. Sheet). In which the supreme court of Washington first announced that the defendant corporation "gave up the ghost." How it died is not fully apparent, but having yielded its spirit to the one who made it, it still retained its worldly cares, for in the next sentence the court said: "But that did not deliver it from the burden of its contracts."

Evidently, in this case, the ghost walked, being "in torment." Who shall henceforth say that corporations have no souls?—Case and Comment.

Myths Concerning the Salamander.

Newts and salamanders are pretty much like frogs and toads, only they have a tail and look like a lizard, and then in some breeds the pair of hind legs are small and in others lacking. Salamanders often get into old rotten logs and if put on the fire run out without being hurt in many cases, because they are more or less damp and may not actually pass through much fire. But talk about a salamander is right at home in the fire.

Uncle Eben.

"Dar is two kinds of courage," said Uncle Eben. "One kind consists in not being skinned 'cause you're not too much sense an' do yutlich 'cause you ain't got enough."

Take Your Common Colds Seriously.

Common colds, so very frequent, lay the foundation of chronic diseased conditions of the nose and throat, and may develop into bronchitis, pneumonia and consumption. For all coughs and colds in children and grown persons take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It checks and relieves. Use no substitute. The genuine is in a yellow package always. Badger Drug Co.

Old Truth Reaffirmed.

A Massachusetts widow wrote a Kansas editor to find her a high-bred, big-bodied, whole-souled westerner for a husband. He printed the letter, and replies are pouring in by the bushel. Soon there will be printed an account of a wedding concluding with the frank admission that it pays to advertise.—Charlotte (N. C.) Observer.

Fitted for the Business.

"My son John," proudly remarked Mrs. McAllister to some one who had inquired about the family, "he's running the drug store now. He's been doing it for a year or more. You know he was to college an' studied palmetry so's to fit himself for the business."

Electric Bells Protect Orchards.

So familiar have electric bells become to most of us that even their sound at unexpected times or in unusual places rarely startles us. Not so with birds, to which the sudden ringing of a bell on a tree or a post means something far more uncanny than any scarecrow flapping in the wind. Knowing this, the head master of an Austrian school has patented an electric scarecrow system in which a clock makes the connections at irregular intervals to electric bells scattered over the orchard.

It Can Be Done.

"You make 30,000 marks a year as an aviator? And yet people say you can't live on air?"—Fleegende Blatter.

Digestive Properties of Eggs.

The latest laws of how eggs go in the stomach is: Two freshest soft-boiled, one and three-quarters hours; two raws, two and one-quarter hours; hard-boiled, three hours; omelette, three hours. The figures speak for themselves, but do not tell the whole truth, for it looks as if soft-boiled eggs were more easily digested than raws, whereas, raws are so bland and gentle as not to excite the flow of the gastric juices—not a single squirm of the stomach.—New York Press.

Democracy and Wealth.

Anatole France said that "In every well-ordered state wealth is a sacred thing." But he added, "In a democracy it is the only sacred thing."

The Average Man's Life.

Uncle Pennywise says: "What a drab life the average man leads. I never went to a masked ball, or a polo tournament, or a house party. Never ate a truffle or uttered an epigram. I never even tasted Burgundy, although half my favorite characters in fiction have wallowed in it."

A Household Medicine that gives Confidence.

In Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, Mrs. T. J. Adams, 522 No. Kansas Ave., Columbus, Kan., writes: "For a number of years my children have been subject to coughs and colds. I got some of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and have found that it cured their coughs and colds in a very short time, so I keep it in the house all the time." Badger Drug Co.
